

Ionia Items.

Ionia, S. C., June 25, 1894.

We are having some rain here now. It was needed very much in this community. Crops are looking splendid for the dry weather we have had. Little Farmer had cotton blooms the 15th inst.

There was a picnic at Mrs. S. Wilson's last Saturday for the benefit of Miss Magnolia Wilson and Mr. Joe Wilson. They have returned home from school.

There was a match game of base ball played between Oakland and the old Star Club on the 16th. Score: Oakland 6, Old Star 10. The game was on the Star ground at Corbett's mill.

Rev. Peter Stokes filled his regular appointment at New Salem yesterday.

Rev. T. B. Haynes will preach the funeral service of Mr. J. C. Joyner's baby, next Sunday at 11 o'clock, a. m.

Miss Irene Callaway made Miss Irene Davis, of Bishopville, a pleasant visit last week. She has returned to her home at Ionia.

Mr. Major Davis and Mr. Douglas Carnes were sporting near here yesterday.

Rev. P. E. has been carrying on a revival meeting at Rattlesnake Springs.

We hope to have a marriage to report next time. News is very scarce.

LITTLE FARMER.

Letter From Wedgefield.

Wedgefield, S. C., June 26, 1894.

A very sudden death occurred to a negro woman, Frances Wright, on Mr. Aycock's Tiverton plantation yesterday morning. The facts in the case as obtained from Mr. W. W. Rees, foreman of the coroner's jury, are about as follows—Trial Justice Moseley acting coroner:

At 5 o'clock a. m. the deceased awoke and told her husband the bell was ringing, and it was time to get up. In a very few minutes her husband heard her breathing very heavily, went to the bed, and seeing something was wrong called his nearest neighbor, and in fifteen minutes from the time he first awoke she was dead. The woman had been perfectly well for several days before, and when she called to her husband, fifteen minutes before she died, seemed perfectly well.

The jury examined several witnesses, and the statement of all of them corresponded with the above. The verdict was death from heart failure.

Miss Linnie McLaurin, of Sumter, is on a visit to her sister Mrs. John B. Ryan.

Mrs. J. F. Moseley has been sick for some time, but is improving.

Miss Elise Singleton arrived home on last Saturday from Hampton, N. J., where she has been teaching English and Art in the Henry C. DeMille Preparatory School. She expects to return next fall.

Mr. W. T. Aycock arrived at the same time from N. Y. City, where he has been attending Columbia Law School.

They came from N. Y. to Charleston by Steamer Seminole with many other Southerners who have been studying at Harvard and West Point.

Mr. D. L. Rambo has accepted the position to teach, offered him by the trustees, and has written that he would be here to open school on first Monday in September.

No rain yet, corn suffering very much. If we cannot plow up oat patches very soon it will be a serious matter.

Manville Items.

MANVILLE, S. C., June 26, '94.

Good rains and a consequent improvement in the crop prospect has brought smiles to the countenances of our farmers, for if we continue to have seasons there will be excellent crops made here this year. We hear of some brag cotton in various sections, but if we had the chance to show up as an entire community, in both cotton and corn, I think we would compare favorably with any other section. A man who can't say that his corn is as tall as his shoulders, goes moping around and insists that he will not make any corn at all this year.

Although Butler and Tillman and the small fry have had their say both at Camden and Sumter, and both meetings were fairly attested from this section, we do not hear much about politics. Everybody seems to think that it is an individual tussle between Butler and Tillman to see which one can vilify the other the most. And John Gary Evans seems to think it his duty to help Uncle Ben whenever occasion presents. John Gary is not very popular around here, since some of our liberty-loving citizens do not think that he, or any other man or set of men shall say how or when they shall spend their hard-earned cash and at what kind of "spencery" they shall imbibe. This matter seems to be the sticking point that pinches not a few.

The dry weather seems to have affected the candidate blooms inasmuch as they seem to be rather late in their appearance this year. However, I guess the recent rains and the meeting of the county executive committee on last Saturday will bring out a full crop in a few days.

The more the merrier, and the more card fees for the newspaper men (provided they pay up promptly, say, Mr. Editor, why don't you newspaper men combine and form a kind of "trust" on this candidate card business and have them pay up promptly or keep them out of the race—think over this suggestion and send a marked copy to your brother editors.) [If our correspondent had ever been a candidate, he would know that candidate's cards have been for many years in the C. O. D. list.—Ed.]

There will be an ice cream festival at DuBose's X roads on next Saturday afternoon, June 30th, at 5:30 o'clock for the benefit of Hebron Presbyterian Church. A good time is anticipated by the young folks, and older ones also. You are most cordially invited, Mr. Editor, and you also are at liberty to bring all of your friends and let each friend bring one of the fair sex along, for the managers of this occasion wish to make it a refreshing affair.

We were pleased to see Dr. H. M. Stuckey, of Sumter, among us on last Sunday. We are always pleased to see the Doctor.

Mr. W. J. McKain, who has resided in Sumter for the past year, has moved his family back to his house, Plain Hill. We are glad to welcome Wiley among us again, and hope he will conclude that Manville is the best place to live after all.

Mr. Nat Barnett is making preparations to build extensive stables, and we understand he is going to run a livery stable in connection with his otherwise extensive business. With a few other live men like Mr. Barnett, Manville is destined to become quite a city in the near future.

Letter From Hagood.

Hagood, S. C., June 25, 1894.

Rains have been very partial in this section. Some have had too much, others not quite enough, and a great many none at all. Where rain has fallen the crops look well, and poorly where they have had none. At this writing the indications are that we will have a generous downpour this afternoon, and we hope it will come to relieve the anxiety of a great many and help the crops which are parching up for the want of it.

The young people are looking forward to the dance which will be given to-morrow night in honor of several young ladies who are visiting in the neighborhood. Westbury's band will furnish the music, and every one is anticipating a delightful evening.

We are very glad that the meeting at Sumter on Saturday last passed off so quietly. It shows that the minds of the people are not so inflamed, politically speaking, as they were a few years ago. Gov. Tillman is the same "Old Ben Tillman" that he was several years ago, and has not forgotten how to reach and tickle the boys to keep them in line. From his stand-point the reform movement has been a great blessing to the down-trodden people of South Carolina; but we do not feel it in our pockets or see it on our tax receipts. We were particularly pleased with the distinguished and able speech of the Hon. Jas. E. Tindal, but in this day of Reform we are afraid that he is too conservative and too much of a gentleman to be elected to the high office to which he aspires. We have no confidence in John Gary Evans, who is nothing more than a scheming politician. He is not a true blue reformer, for he has not recently been converted to the faith. He voted against the establishment of Clemson College while a member of the House in 1888-89, also against the salary reduction bill, and against Gov. Tillman himself, who was then a candidate for the Board of Agriculture. When he saw the chance of getting an office he changed over, and will change again whenever it suits his fancy or purposes.

The Sunday-School picnic to be held on July 4th, at the grove of Mr. T. O. Sanders, sr., promises to be a very large affair. Large crowds are expected from this and Kershaw County. An interesting programme has been arranged and addresses will be delivered by prominent speakers.

Miss Annie Lytle Roddey, one of the belles of Rock Hill, is on a visit to the family of Mr. W. C. S. Elberbe.

Miss Annie Graham, of Sumter, is visiting friends here.

"That School Matter."

To the Editor of the Watchman and Southron:

"Another Citizen" writing in the Freeman of the 22nd inst., instances the State aid extended to Claflin University, as a sufficient vindication of our City Council's action in voting aid to the proposed Northern Presbyterian Mission School House to be erected here. He also states that Claflin is "managed by the Northern M. E. Church."

Perhaps the best answers that can be given to "Another Citizen" is to quote from the General Statutes of the State, which I now do:

Section 1027. The University of South Carolina shall be, and it is hereby, divided into branches—the one located in the City of Columbia, and styled the South Carolina College; another in or near the town of Orangeburg, to be styled the Claflin College; another the South Carolina Military Academy. The said University, and the said branches thereof, in Columbia and Orangeburg, shall be and are hereby, placed under the control and management of the Board of Trustees of the University of South Carolina, now in office, and their successors elected according to law.

This speaks to the point, and absolutely avoids "Another Citizen's" contention, because it shows that the aid given to Claflin is State aid to a State institution, which is a very different thing from City aid to a sectarian institution.

"Another Citizen" misses the point altogether. He does not even get his facts correct. One cannot argue with a manufacturer of facts. His special pleading contains nothing worthy of a reply. The principle involved is that of mixing or keeping separate Church and State. On that issue I stand for separation complete and final.

Sunday School Convention.

The Executive Committee of the County Interdenominational Sunday School Association met in Sumter on the 11th June, and passed unanimously the following resolutions, to wit:

That the Convention this year meet at Bishopville on Tuesday, Sept. 4th, at 12 m. That it continue in session two days.

That the following persons be and are invited to address the Convention during its session on such branches of Sunday work as they may see proper to select, viz: Rev. Mr. Scroggs, Rev. T. M. Dent and Rev. W. A. Gregg, Messrs. E. D. Smith, Peter Mellett, L. D. Jennings, J. M. Carraway, Hugh Scott, J. E. DuPre, Jerry Myers, D. J. Auld and Charles M. Hurst.

The Sunday Schools of Bishopville will be expected to furnish songs from time to time sung exclusively by the children. The speakers are asked to give several talks to the children. Those appointed to speak are requested to address Maj. H. F. Wilson, chairman of the committee, accepting the invitation at as early a date as practicable. The Local Committee to make all necessary arrangements for the meeting will consist of Messrs. Samuel J. Bradley, W. Spencer James and Henry Woodward.

All superintendents are earnestly requested to attend this convention.

Done by the committee.

TO THE PUBLIC

And Particularly to the Residents of Stateburg School District, No. 6.

It having been rumored that there were irregularities in the management of School District No. 6, and such rumors having reached us we immediately visited the office of the School Commissioner at Sumter and conferred with him concerning the same. Upon being shown the duplicate school checks we found that a large number of checks had been issued which bore the name of J. S. Pinckney, but were not signed by him, and that one check bore the name of Wm. Sanders, but was not signed by him, (William M. Sanders.) The first named checks purport to be signed by Mr. R. D. Moore, as well as by J. S. Pinckney, and the name of Wm. M. Sanders does not appear on any of said first named forged checks. And the check having the name Wm. Sanders on it, also has upon it the name of Mr. R. D. Moore, but not the name of J. S. Pinckney. Finding this condition of affairs, we deemed it unfair to Mr. R. D. Moore who is the Chairman and Clerk of the Board of trustees of said District to make the matter public without giving notice to Mr. Moore, and thereupon we invited him by letter to meet us at the School Commissioner's office at 12 o'clock to-day, calling his attention specifically to a number of irregularities and notifying him that we particularly desired his presence to-day as we intended to publish a statement of the facts after such meeting. Mr. Moore replied to our letter in person to Mr. Pinckney, but it is deemed unnecessary to state here what then occurred except that Mr. Moore said he would be present. But last night Mr. Sanders received a letter from Mr. Moore in which he stated that a member of his family was quite ill, and that he feared that it would be impossible for him to meet us in Sumter to-day. We met at the office of the School Commissioner at the hour appointed, and in the presence of a number of our friends called for all the duplicate school checks on file and checked off all that were spurious. Mr. Moore was not present. These papers are on file in the office of the School Commissioner and can be seen by any one interested, and an investigation is earnestly invited by us. No one regrets more than we do that any irregularities should have occurred, but we were in no way responsible for them, and an investigation will show that we were powerless to prevent such irregularities. We had never seen any of such forged papers until we saw them in the School Commissioner's office.

Respectfully,
JAS. S. PINCKNEY,
WM. M. SANDERS.
Trustees, School District, No. 6.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, June 25, 1894.

Senator Hill's fight against the income tax was a futile one, and he did not get even the support of all those he had counted upon. Whether it was that fact or something else he conducted the fight with such bitterness that he has made enemies among the democratic Senators who will never forgive him for the language he used and the manner in which he used it. Senator Hill could have made a fight against the income tax without offending a single democrat who favors it, but he chose to do otherwise, and even those who agree with him in opposing the tax are now unanimous in saying that he has made a mistake that he will never be allowed to forget. No man objects more to being driven than he. Yet he tried to drive his democratic colleagues.

The end of the fight against the income tax is the end of the legitimate fight against the tariff bill, and unless there is some republican trickery the bill will pass the Senate and be in the hands of the conference committee before the close of this week. Such republican Senators as Aldrich, Sherman and Teller, will do nothing to prevent a vote being reached, the legitimate debate being over, but there is a gang of guerrillas on the republican side of the Senate (men like "Little Billy" Chandler, of N. H.) which may attempt to filibuster against a vote, not with any expectation of defeating the bill, but just because of their "pure cussedness." Public interest, recognizing the early passage of the bill, is now centered upon the changes that will be made in it by the conference committee. That there will be a number of changes is regarded as certain, and it is fair to presume that they will all lean towards the original Wilson bill as it was passed by the House, although probably in few, if any, instances going all the way. The sugar schedule is regarded as one of the certain changes to be made, but it will hardly go as far as free sugar, because of the opinion that some revenue must be raised from sugar.

Senator Brice, who is chairman of the Senate committee on Pacific Railroads, has a treat in store for the members of that committee, which will combine pleasure with the accumulation of useful knowledge of the property with which the committee has to deal. As soon as Congress adjourns he will take the committee in his private car on a tour over the entire Union Pacific, and Central Pacific railroads.

The Hatch anti-option bill, which passed the House by a vote of 150 to 87, has been before Congress in one or another shape for the last five years. It was shown by the manner in which party lines were disregarded when the vote was taken—for the bill, democrats 93, republicans 47, and populists 10; against, democrats 61, republicans 26—that politics did not influence the members to any marked extent. The anti-option bill was originally introduced in the Fifty-first Congress by Representative Funston, of Kansas, who was chairman of the House committee on Agriculture at that time, and it was introduced in the present and in the Fifty-second Congresses by Representative Hatch of Missouri, now at the head of the Committee of Agriculture.

By the way, Speaking of Funston, of Kansas, the House committee on Elections has decided that he is not entitled to the seat he now holds in the House, because Mr. Moore, his democratic competitor was legally elected thereto. Speaker Crisp, who was confined to his room nearly all of last week by a troublesome attack of indigestion, is again presiding over the House, which is once more pegging away at the regular appropriation bills and will probably continue at it until they are all disposed of, with the exception of the time that it may be necessary to give to reports from the Representatives of the House on the Tariff Conference committee.

Vice President Stevenson certified the cases of Messrs. Havemeyer and Searle, of the sugar trust, to the U. S. District Attorney for presentation to the Grand Jury, on Saturday, in accordance with the majority report of the investigating committee. The general opinion is that Senators Gray and Lindsay, the democratic members of the committee, took the correct view when they stated in a minority report that the committee had no authority to compel Havemeyer and Searle to tell how much money they had contributed to state organizations, they having stated that they had made no contributions to the National organizations. It was merely to gain a little partisan capital that the two republican members of the committee joined Senator Allen in ordering that Havemeyer and Searle be certified to the District Attorney as recalcitrant witnesses. The committee is now working upon its report of the entire investigation, but it cannot be positively stated when it will be ready.

The so-called industrial armies, three of which are now in the vicinity of Washington, are rapidly going to pieces, the men finding that the people of this country are not quite silly enough to work for money and then contribute it to keep several hundred men lying around in idleness.

As to Prohibition.

ST. CHARLES, S. C., June 14, 1894.

The most momentous question agitating the public mind is the use or abuse of intoxicating drinks. Different systems are being discussed to lessen or prevent its baneful effects of the human family. After several years of deep reflection I confess I have become a believer in prohibition. Every christian and moralist must examine and determine for himself. Reform is a word of powerful significance, when not misapplied or perverted from its natural channel. If the fountain head be pure its stream will partake of its purity.

"Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter? If a man be a true christian, he must submit to the deliverance of his Church courts. All Christian Churches have pronounced the whiskey traffic to be immoral. Where stands the officers and members of these organizations? A serious question requiring a prayerful answer. Many object to prohibition on the ground that legislation fails to prohibit. The moral power of our people forbids the U. S. Congress to pass a law prohibiting polygamy in Utah. If we can exterminate this vice, why can we not restrain or abolish the rum evil? Now, as moral reformers, are we not compelled to eradicate this curse from the body politic, or ameliorate as much as we can the miseries which flow from the use of alcoholic drinks? Are we bound in anyway to advocate or perpetuate an evil? John Calvin, a moral reformer, made futile efforts to introduce the sacred Scriptures into France. The Deist had decreed that the god of reason was the god of the French people. Time in its ceaseless flight has brought about a wonderful change. These same Scriptures are now being extensively sold in this infidel nation.

Postmaster-General Bissell is an able advocate of moral reform, having determined not to appoint to office any one whose business it is to sell intoxicating beverages. Some object to temperance societies, they say they accomplish so little. I admit their growth is slow; the growth of truth is slow, but remember, "Tall oaks from little acorns grow. Large streams from little fountains flow." Seek good and not evil, that ye may live. Hate the evil and love the good.

Martin Luther was the grandest reformer that ever moved upon the earth, (except the Son of God) yet we have been unable to find that he used any lager beer to bring his reformation to a grand and lasting success.

"Brandy, brandy—bane of life,
Source of tumult, source of strife."
S. D. M. LACOSTE.

ST. CHARLES, S. C. June 21, 1894.

"But speak thou the words which become sound doctrine: that the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience."

Some young converts may fall, but if the good seed be rooted in the heart they will recover. The old sometimes make sad departures, from the line of virtue and strict morality. As an example the silver-tongued orator, of Ky. My premises being stated, allow me, to bring forward my conclusions. The text involves duty and individual responsibility. Our first allegiance is due to our Creator. Life and all of its blessings come from the uncreated. We are responsible for the seed we sow. Daniel Webster was asked what was the grandest thought that ever entered the human mind. He promptly replied, man's personal responsibility to his Maker. As intelligent citizens, must we vote for the continuance of an evil admitted by all men, to be ruinous and destructive to both the mental, moral and bodily faculties? As a juror, I have often been impressed with this query: What is the character of the plaintiff or defendant, good or bad? What do his neighbors think of him? Some say reform must begin at the parent's fireside. True if the head of the household, be pure and clean, impossible if the parentage be impure and unclean. If we support the whiskey traffic, we may be instrumental in the ruin of many a noble young man, and bring the gray hairs of his parents down to the grave in sorrow. You can't evade your duty. You must not sacrifice your manhood to promote the unpatronized and unbridled ambition of an alcoholic advocate. Before you do so please do as I have done: make a close and searching analysis of your private opinions and see if you can repeat the petition: "Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil."

The sweetest lives are those to duty wed, Whose deeds, both great and small, Are close-knit strands, of unbroken threads, Whose love ennobles all.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
